Armins Automaton Reaper was undergoing examination, and elicited very favorable comments from the farmers guthered around it .-Turrey & Salcoom, of this city, show a very hand-some steam engine, from their well known foundry and also an iron column in the Corinthian order of architecture, the capital in particular being a finished piece of casting. Wherears, Meleck & superior pattern and workmanship. Several bundles of bay are shown, as evidences of the work of the Hay Pages which Mr. W. P. Franname has recently introduced into our state, the machine itself not being on the ground. Several improved grain and seed drills were undergoing close examination ; among them we notice Sairu's Patent Drill, from Dayton, Ohio : Dickey's Corn Drill, from Hopewell, Pennsylvania; Van Even's

Decker & Saville have an assortment of stove nanufactured at their establishment, the Reliance Works, in the 2d ward, of various patterns.-They have also numerous specimens of hollow ware, and as a sample of casting, admirably done, in iron column as it came from the mould. There the awards of premiums will be announced. isalson stove, well recommended, from the Genuga Co., Painsville, Ohio. Specimens of staves, for different kinds of work, turned out by Hawkins' Patent Stave Machine, are shown. Then there are patent bechives, and a model windmill, the last better, in every respect, so far as we could Judge, than the one which Don Quixote had so much trouble with. It is an ingenious contrivance, but we have not much faith in windmills of any kind, animate or inanimate.

From the machinery, we passed to the exhibition of stock. A very brief notice of this depart-ment must suffice for to-day. The entries under this class were 315 in number, and as many persons untered from 5 to 8 animals, some like amay be formed of the number of animals on the ground, The exhibition is certainly a very handsome oneand very creditable to Wisconsin, giving good earnest of the manner in which our farmers are at work in improving their stock.

Commencing at one end of the long line, we found a lot of mules, shown by P. A. Jenens, of Genesee, Waukesha county. A fine jack among them discoursed eloquent music, in his clearest tones, to crowds of appreciating listeners. There were quite a number of lively colts in the lot .-Besides those of Mr. Jenkins, a number of teams of mules were on the ground. It is certainly to be hoped that our farmers may turn their atten-tion to this kind of stock, so valuable in many respects. For farming purposes, as to length of days, cheapness of keeping, toughness, and strength, they are so superior to ordinary horsehope to see a better display.

We pass on, to the horses, we mention that 41 fine stallions, of approved few, and it is quite likely that we may omit some of the best, as they were moving from place to

Chas. Kelley, of Fox Lake, has a superb dapple gray, and A. F PRATE, of Wankesha, a trotting stallion, called Badger Boy." Last, and least in size, though not least in the amount of attention they attracted, were the beautiful little Sherland stallion and mare, entered by Master Johnny Mirchell, of this city. Among matched horses we saw none better than the Dane County team before mentioned, sud the tine giny team of our fellow-citizen, W. A. HAWKINS; P. W. DICKEY, of Janesville, had also a beautiful span. We noticed a colt raised by Dr. Chase of Lake, 2 years and 4 months old and weighing 1045 pounds, promising well for a future show, to judge from his present appearance. The show of brood mares and young horses was full and good.

Recovering its Appetite.—The Madison Denocrat, which was at first inexpressibly disgusted at the result of the Judicial election, is beginning o pluck up its courage and show some touch of its former spirit. It now talks thus :

This election has shown two things unnistak-ably—the strength of the democratic party, and that the people are sick and fired of no party is no and are in favor of party nominations for all offices. If the defeat of Judge Larraber by from the to three thousand majority is an evidence of " the strength of the Democratic porty," the vote to Wisconsin is sure for Gen. Scorr. As our report of the match yesterday was handed to us late we were not able to go into the details of the game. The match throughout was one of the most exciting ones we ever witnessed, and the gentlemanty behavior and good feeling felt by the Clubertoward each other, were matters we were glad to see. The butting on the Milwaukee purt, of Bignal, Cox and Barnatt, was highly creditable to them, while Holbrook, Long and Breese on the Chicago part, defended the honor of their club with the bat, in good cricket, the hiwaukee new howling on both sides was good, the Milwaukee ones howling on the hills was good, in the hillwankee new howling which will be a great advantage to their play in whatever match they may have.

The Chicago club practice round hand bowling, which will be a great advantage to their play in whatever match they may have.

The Chicago Club het the American House the Milwaukee Club received them at the Bull's Head, with three times three. A procession was then formed, and the Clubs marched locked arms of the ground, each Chicago man taking the arm of a Milwaukeesn, and at the conclusion of the game they did the same.—Chicago Tribone,
